Case study: Corporation of Lloyd's

Lloyd's, the world's leading specialist insurance market has implemented expense@work to streamline their entire expense claims process. Working closely with consultants from systems@work, Lloyd's successfully deployed expense@work across the entire organisation with a total user community of over 650.

Kevin Smith, Chief Accountant at Lloyd's said of their decision to choose expense@work:

"We were greatly impressed by the functionality and technical architecture of the expense@work solution. In addition, the support we received from systems@work made a significant contribution to the delivery of the Expense Management Solution to our users."

Commenting on the project, Andy Tomsett, Project Manager remarked:

"As a Microsoft compliant solution, expense@work was an ideal application to deploy within Lloyd's. We are particularly happy about the continued development plans for the product and we are confident that expense@work will scale and evolve to meet the changing Information Technology requirements at Lloyd's."
